IMPORTANCE OF TESTING NEW JSE MARKET DATA CONNECT PORTAL

We reminded you on Service Hotline 005/2021 about the availability of the JSE Market Data Connect demo environment and emphasised the importance of exploring and testing reporting using the new future portal. This solution will be replacing the current JSE solution that you use to report data numbers to the JSE to meet your data agreement legal obligation.

We are concerned about the low number of clients that have registered and submitted a test report.

If you have been nominated by your company to report data numbers to the JSE or act as a backup, and have already registered and submitted a test report, we thank you. If you have not, please make time to register for the demo environment, explore and test the functionality that you will use, right up to submitting a test report. The demo version will present your company specific data for a near-production experience but is a test environment so you can safely enter any numbers.

The demo environment will only be available up to mid-March with the go-live planned for Monday, 29 March 2021 to allow enough time for testing.

Any questions or requests for access must be sent by email to mdsupport@jse.co.za or via your JSE Market Data Account Manager.
