AVAILABILITY OF EXTERNAL TEST ENVIRONMENTS FOR THE JSE DERIVATIVES MARKETS

Clients are advised that the External Test Environments for the JSE Derivatives and Interest Rate Markets (IP Address: 196.216.153.101) will not be available from Monday, 30 January until Friday, 3 February 2017 due to technical maintenance and a production database restore taking place.

The following markets will be affected:

- Equity Derivatives Market
- Interest Rate and Currency Derivatives Market
- Commodity Derivatives Market

The purpose of this restore is to align production and test reference data as closely as possible, this will provide relevant data to assist with testing scenarios.

As a result of the restore all testing data up until Wednesday, 1 February 2017 will be deleted.

Test user accounts will be manually re-added by the JSE, however in the event post the restore that there are certain test accounts missing, clients are advised to send a request to customersupport@jse.co.za requesting the loading of these client test accounts.

Market / Service:
