MOTUS HOLDINGS (MTH) DIVIDEND CANCELLATION: CHANGES TO INDICES NON-LIVE MARKET DATA RECORDS

Following a SENS announcement issued on 24 March 2020 regarding the Motus Holdings Limited (MTH) dividend cancellation, resulting from the uncertain duration of COVID-19, the Motus dividend was reversed from start of business on 8 April 2020 in the FTSE/JSE Index Series.

Due to the dividend being cancelled, a negative adjustment of the dividend amount ZAR -2.4 was made in the Tracker Data records to reverse the dividend, however the value was published without a negative sign and was regrettably displayed as a positive value in all the associated non-live market data records.

Unfortunately the JSE will not be able to recreate all the Tracker data records and thus request clients to interpret the adjusted value of ZAR-2.4 as a negative value in the Dividend Amount field for all indices where MTH is a constituent of.

Please note that this scenario is based on an exceptional situation(s) faced by companies could be repeated for other instruments in the future. A notice will be issued when similar scenarios happen.

The JSE apologises for the impact to your operations and the inconvenience to your users of the data.
