INCORRECT SECURITIES TRANSFER TAX ON ATTACKQ (ATT)

Please find update to hotline 279/2018 issued on 6 December 2018.

Following a formal letter to SARS in December 2018 regarding the incorrect STT on Attackq Limited (ATT), and, a meeting to discuss the process regarding STT refunds in 2019, SARS has set out the below legal refund process for brokers attention:

- STT payments to SARS were made directly by brokers, and, therefore brokers are to legally claim a refund from SARS on behalf of their clients, within two years from actual payment date;
- The refund may be requested by completing SECTION A of the REV1600 refund claim form, available on SARS web-site, and, to be submitted to stt@sars.gov.za

Kindly attach the following documentation with the REV1600 form submission:

- A power of attorney from each underlying client for whom the broker is requesting the claim;
- Proof of payment – eSTT receipt printed from the eFilling website;
- Signed motivation letter requesting the refund, please attach hotline 279/2018 to this signed motivation.

We will provide affected members with a list of trades and the SARS webpage link to access the REV1600 form. This information will be provided to compliance officers by close of business Tuesday 2 April 2019.
