T + 3 Phase II – User Acceptance Testing and Training dates

Dear stakeholder

With reference to previous communication (Service Hotline 80/14) issued 14 April 2014, we committed to coming back to the market by the end of May 2014 to confirm the dates for the start of training and User Acceptance Testing.

As communicated the JSE introduced additional SIT cycles. The 1st of these additional SIT cycles has been completed and the 2nd SIT cycle will be completed by the end of June 2014.

The JSE would like to complete the 2nd additional SIT cycle before making an assessment on when User Acceptance Testing will start. We will therefore revert back to the market by end June 2014 with further information on the User Acceptance Testing and training dates for T+3 Phase II.

We understand the market needs to undertake resource planning and therefore we will ensure that we give at least 30 days' notice of the start of User Acceptance Testing. We would like to thank all stakeholders for their support and commitment for the testing of T+3 Phase II thus far.

Should you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact Brett Kotze.
