For those equity securities that do not participate in the FCO auction call session, the sessions and times stipulated in the table in BU1 will be applicable to futures close out days.

- The following trading sessions may occur under certain market conditions-
 - 4.1 volatility auction session;
 - 4.2 market order extension session; and
 - 4.3 price monitoring extension session.

A market order extension or a price monitoring extension or both may occur during an auction call session and will result in the relevant auction call session being extended beyond the times stipulated in the tables in BU1 to BU3 for the affected equity security. A maximum of one of each of the [auction] market order extension and price monitoring extension sessions referred to in 4.2 and 4.3 may occur [after] during any auction call session, except for [after] during a closing auction session when there may be up to a maximum of two price monitoring extension sessions and one market order extension session.
