Dear Client,

The JSE continuously reviews its listed products to ensure that the market remains efficient, relevant, and aligned with client demand.

As part of this review process, the JSE has identified the following currency futures contracts that have exhibited prolonged periods of inactivity, with no open interest and limited trading activity over an extended period:

- SGDZAR (Singapore Dollar / South African Rand)
- HKDZAR (Hong Kong Dollar / South African Rand)
- TRYZAR (Turkish Lira / South African Rand)
- NZDZAR (New Zealand Dollar / South African Rand)
- KESZAR (Kenyan Shilling / South African Rand)
- DKKZAR (Danish Krone / South African Rand)
- BWPZAR (Botswana Pula / South African Rand)

Given the sustained lack of market participation in these currency pairs, the JSE will be suspending these contracts from its listed product offering.

Should market demand for any of the affected currency pairs be re-established, the JSE will be pleased to reconsider their listing and may reintroduce the relevant contracts where there is sufficient market support.

The JSE remains committed to providing a robust and relevant suite of currency derivatives products that meet the evolving needs of market participants.
