SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR INFORMATION TO ASSIST IN DETERMINING THE OILSEED DIFFERENTIALS

Name and Surname: Raphael Karuaihe
Designation: Head – Commodities

Dear Client,

The new marketing season for oilseeds (SUNS & SOYA) commencing 1 March 2022 is approaching and we kindly extend an open invitation to all interested road transporters or logistic brokers especially in the sunflower sector to express their interest to contribute to the updated transport rates.

We also kindly request from Storage Operators who facilitate the storage of sunflower seeds to provide the JSE with information that provides insights into the payload statistics of trucks out loading sunflower seeds. In the previous marketing season, the payload factor for SUNS was adjusted to 34 tons and so the JSE would like to reconfirm if this remains the most accurate reference.

Please could we kindly request member firms who receive this notice to distribute the request to all interested clients to ensure our reach with logistic providers is extended.

Please extend the requested information to the JSE Commodities Team on commodities@jse.co.za by 20 December 2021 to ensure the necessary engagements can be arranged for in January 2022.

We sincerely thank you in advance for your consideration of this request.
